NOTICE: THIS MAY AFFECT YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS

To all recipients of the June 20, 2008 letter from Annette Freund, Vice President, Compensation, Benefits and HR Support of Navistar International Corporation:

Dear _____:

You received a letter offering a cash payment and soliciting your release of claims relating to Navistar Stock Options.

Releases sent to the Company before August 1, 2008 will not be effective until August 1, 2008. Anyone who had previously sent releases to the Company may reconsider your release until August 1, 2008. If you choose to reconsider, you have until August 1, 2008 to deliver a revocation to Mr. Howard Kuppler, Navistar International Corporation, 4201 Winfield Road, P.O. Box 1488, Warrenville, IL 60555.

A class action case, Rawat v. Navistar Int'l Corp., 08cv3038 (N.D. Ill.), seeks to certify a class consisting of persons with vested stock options that expired during the period when trading restrictions were in place. The lawsuit claims that Navistar is obligated to compensate you for any resulting harm because of your inability to exercise your options before they expired.
